

Spring Gathering 2023

3RD TO 5TH MARCH 2023, TULLIALLAN, KINCARDINE

In the last issue, we included details of the demonstrators who will be at our Spring Gathering. However, anyone who has been before knows that the demonstrations are only part of the event.

In addition, we have the following regular features:

- the mug swap
- the Anne Lightwood Award
- the members display area
- a raffle
- Shannon Tofts photography
- supplier(s) shop
- Staurday night ceilidh (with optional fancy dress)

Of course, we all know that a HUGE part of the Spring Gathering is the chance to network, catch up with old friends, make new friends and talk until you are hoarse about all things pottery.

To give everyone a chance to get making, the details are as follows.

Mug Swap

We ask everyone attending to bring along a mug. On arrival, you deposit your mug, adding a raffle ticket inside your mug and

Sculpture by James Outibridge who will be demonstrating keeping hold of the counterpart. Just before the AGM on Saturday afternoon, the tickets are swapped around and you take home the mug now containing your ticket.

Anne Lightwood Award

Bring along your best pot and place it on the display table. Prior to the AGM, the three invited demonstrators will choose the winner who will be presented with a certificate and prize at the AGM.

Members' Display Area

If you would like to display some of your pottery, for sale or just for show, bring along a small selection with some business cards or flyers and place them in the display area.

Raffle

Members are asked to bring a piece of pottery to donate to the raffle. Tickets will be sold on arrival and throughout Friday and Saturday and the raffle will be drawn after the AGM.

All of these activities are optional but it is fun to take part.

FANCY DRESS THEME

What you were wearing when the ship went down.

Work by Tricia Thom who will be demonstrating