

THE SCOTTISH POTTERS ASSOCIATION

The Scottish Potters Association is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (SCIO, number SC048850) registered with the Office of the Scottish Charities Register. Our aims are to raise awareness of pottery in Scotland and to raise standards in the craft. This map has been compiled from members who have a workshop, shop or gallery that is open to the public. However, please note opening times or open by appointment to prevent any disappointment. SPA members enjoy a varied programme of activities throughout the year and new members are always welcome. Please visit the SPA website www.scottishpotters.org for more information

Facebook: Ceramics at the Annexe

I work from my home studio, creating one-off, hand-built pieces that are smoke, raku or pit fired to produce subtle and unpredictable finishes. My inspiration comes from the land and coastline around Moray: the vast changing skies, the textures and colours of the woods, the sand and stones on the beaches.

I have been creating 'in glaze lustre ware' for the domestic and decorative market for over 20 years. These iridescent glazes were developed during my time at art school and I still continue to experiment today. Originally inspired by the reflective colour and movement of water, other inspirations have crept in over the years. I have a small shop as part of my pottery in the old Methodist Church. Normally open Tues to Sat, 10am - 5pm - please check website for any closures i.e. holidays.
